Leaders Beg Southerners to Drop Filibuster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Democratic leaders begged Southern senators today to drop their filibuster against the civil rights bill and permit the Senate to vote on pending jury trial amendments.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, said the country is witnessing "a travesty on the legislative process."

Speaking amid growing demands for an immediate attempt to invoke cloture to shut off further talk on that phase of the bill, Mansfield, in an emotion-choked voice said the reason cloture has not been sought before is that "in all honesty, we did not have the votes."

"And, in my opinion," Mansfield added, "we do not have the votes now."

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today Congress will be held in session all year if necessary to pass the civil rights bill and other parts of President Johnson's program.

Mansfield, talking with reporters after a breakfast meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with Johnson, said he had reported on the progress of the rights bill after 60 days' debate.

"We told him that the progress is nil," Mansfield said. He promised that the bipartisan Continued on Page Two

Talk Insists Castro in for Trouble

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of impending military action against Fidel Castro gained momentum today in this Cuban exile capital, but plans, if any, were shrouded in secrecy.

Officials of anti-Castro groups, while not denying that some type of action was in the air, were tight-lipped in contrast with the open situation prior to the ill-fated 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. They spoke of a long guerrilla war, sabotage, infiltration and hopes for defection of Castro's armed forces.

Rogelio Cisneros, newly named chief in Exile of Revolutionary Junta—JURE—returned from a conference in Puerto Rico with Manuel Ray, who has promised to be fighting inside Cuba by May 20, Cuban independence day.

Cisneros was silent about his talk with Castro's former Havana underground head, now designated JURE's chief inside Cuba. Ray founded URE.

A spokesman pointed to JURE's emblem, a twig.

"It is small, but it will grow," he explained.

Another activist group, Revolutionary Recovery Movement—MMR—reported it is mailing out English translations of a speech by its head, Bay of Pigs leader Manuel Artime, predicting "a long, hard war full of blood and sacrifice."

He was quoted in his March 18 address to an exile group as comparing Castro's forces to Goliath and his to David.

Revolutionary Unity Movement, a large anti-Castro organization, published a coupon in its official publication urging Castro's militiamen and soldiers to defect.

The coupon, to be mailed to Cuba by exiles, says: "The Communist regime is near its end. When that moment arrives, the most responsible figures will try to flee, a flight already prepared, but they won't include you."

The message to Castro's servicemen added: "Take note what happened in Brazil. Joao Goulart (deposed president) fled in time, and left others behind, abandoned to their fate."

Violence in Wallace Wake in Maryland

By LOUIS G. PANOS

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—An outburst of violence in the wake of a presidential campaign speech by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace left this center of racial strife in the grip of new tensions today.

Two demonstrators and five National Guardsmen were injured in a melee touched off Monday night when about 200 singing, hand-clapping integrationists tried to march on the arena where Wallace had spoken.

They met a cordon of some of the 400 National Guardsmen hurried into this sensitive spot just to prevent such an act.

Wallace had already left the town of 12,600. He had addressed about 1,500 supporters in his campaign in the May 19 Democratic primary and was applauded more than 40 times during a 45-minute speech attacking the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

Balked by guardsmen wearing gas masks and holding rifles with fixed bayonets, the integrationists squatted in the street and sang "We Shall Not Be Moved."

Guardsmen used tear gas to disperse them, arrested 14 and slapped an 11 p.m. curfew on the city.

State officials met into early morning on the disposition of the arrested. Two were treated at Cambridge Hospital, one for a cut and the other for the effects of tear gas, then were returned to the National Guard armory. Two others were then sent to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Robert Murphy said charges to be filed against some of those arrested still were under study.

"It may be foolish, if the climate stays as it is, to turn them loose in this inferno down here," he said.

Gloria Richardson, leader of the two-year-old integration movement in Cambridge, was among those arrested. Those not hospitalized were transferred to National Guard headquarters in Pikesville, across Chesapeake Bay and north of Baltimore.

The guardsmen ordered into Cambridge before Wallace's appearance at the invitation of the Dorchester Business and Citizens Association included units which were called out at the height of similar violence in Cambridge last summer. A token force of 10 had been assigned to the uneasy city throughout the winter, but there had been no curfew or other restrictions similar to those imposed after an outbreak of shootings and arson last July.

The 1936 demonstrations emphasized demands of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee for integration of restaurants and other public accommodations. The Town Council approved a public accommodations amendment to the Cambridge charter after these outbreaks, but it was overridden in a public vote on the question last Oct. 1. The Business and Citizens Association led the opposition.

The hoboes turned the kilns into harbors from wet and the cold—and perhaps too from the world. A knapsack tossed into a corner and a blanket on the floor and it was home until the wail of a train whistle called them on again.

A few bricks made an excellent hearth on which to set a battered pot. I pooled my nickels with the hoboes for a sack of beans, salt pork. It's orders filled our cavern, and nothing ever tasted better. We sat around the fire while the rain dripped outside and I heard embroidered tales of places that seemed to me like the Arabian Nights.

I was especially envious of one ingenious fellow who fashioned a home out of an abandoned auto. It sat under a weeping willow beside a brick pond filled with junk.

It was a shell. The motor and wheels, even the fenders, were gone. He stripped it bare inside, then plastered the walls and chinked the holes with newspapers to ward off the chill. From the junk heap he salvaged an old car seat and it was chair and bed. An upturned crate was a table.

Later, long afterward, a gang of us braced ourselves against the willow and shoved the car into the pond. A little sadly, I watched it settle into the muck.

They are gone now, and no hoot of a diesel will ever bring them back. Like our childhood, they are gone.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—What ever happened to the hoboes I used to know as a kid?

I haven't seen an honest-to-goodness hobo in years. Apparently in this age of prosperity they have been squeezed into employment.

But to a kid in those first post-depression years they were everywhere. The railroad tracks were only a few blocks away and every freight train brought more of them to the Louisiana bayou country where I grew up.

Looking back, I suppose most of them were derelicts, bewildered and abandoned, but in those days they seemed like soldiers of fortune.

In old felt hats, knee-length coats and open-toed shoes, they had an aura of glamor. They came and went like the wind and every meal was a picnic around a camp fire.

We had no sidewalk in front of our house on which to scrawl a sign, but the hoboes all seemed to know my mother was an easy mark. She was always good for a plate of scrambled eggs, bread and a cup or two of coffee. Sometimes I would sit beside one on the back steps and watch him wolf down the food.

Dad had a brick yard along the tracks, and for a time it was a hobo Hilton. There wasn't much demand for bricks, and for months at a time its kilns stood empty. We used to play there, up the chimneys, down through the tunnels, and out again, yelling just to hear our echoes.

The hoboes turned the kilns into harbors from wet and the cold—and perhaps too from the world. A knapsack tossed into a corner and a blanket on the floor and it was home until the wail of a train whistle called them on again.

Plane Crashes Leave 92 Dead or Missing

By CARL ZIMMERMAN

MANILA (AP) — Ninety-two persons were dead or missing today following four military plane crashes around the world. Most of the victims were American military personnel.

A fifth plane, a U.S. Air Force supersonic fighter, crashed in the Philippines today but the pilot parachuted to safety.

The four fatal crashes occurred Monday in the Philippines, off Spain, in southern England and in Alabama.

At Clark Air Base north of Manila, a U.S. Military Air Transport jetliner with 83 persons aboard crashed short of a runway and burst into flames. Seventy-three persons died in the wreckage and another two died in the base hospital.

The eight people on board who survived the crash were in the base hospital. The Filipino cab driver and another American passenger in the taxi also were hospitalized.

Aboard the four-engine C135 were 9 Air Force crewmen, a flight nurse, 48 Air Force passengers, 19 Navy men, 4 Coast Guardsmen and 2 Nationalist Chinese.

Determined for Truth in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., told the Senate Rules Committee today it has a responsibility to get to the bottom of the Bobby Baker case—and not treat senators as "a privileged class."

"No investigation of Bobby Baker can have any real meaning without an investigation of the relations of members of the Senate with Bobby Baker," he said.

Baker resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority after questions were raised about his outside business and financial dealings, in which he acquired a claimed fortune of more than $2 million.

Case said the Rules Committee, in its investigation of Baker's affairs, had given the impression that it wanted to "put an end to an unpleasant episode, to close the door, to push the whole matter aside in the hope that it will soon be forgotten."

"I suggest it is intolerable that we leave the matter in this sorry state," he said in testimony prepared for a closed hearing of the committee.

Hearing to Cut Passenger Service

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission wound up hearings here Monday on a Rock Island Railroad proposal to discontinue its two daily roundtrip routes between Memphis and Amarillo, Tex.

ICC Examiner Edmund T. Fritz will make a recommendation later.

Rock Island claimed the passenger traffic on Trains 23 and 24 had declined, and said the line lost $319,536 last year on the route.

Among those testifying against the discontinuance were state Reps. Lloyd George of Yell County and Doris McCastain of Monroe County, and Mayor James L. Malham of Brinkley.

Rock Island said it has a nightly roundtrip on the route which can handle the demand. The railroad said the government can make whatever arrangements are needed to assure mail delivery.

LBJ Moves to Dispel Fears of Latins

By ARY MOLEON
WASHINGTON (AP) — With money and friendly persuasion, President Johnson has moved to dispel Latin Americans' doubts about his interest in their problems and in the Alliance for Progress.

"I felt he was sincere and warm," an Argentine diplomat said at the White House Monday night after hearing Johnson announce $40 million in fresh credits under the alliance to 13 Latin-American nations.

Johnson said the United States will double its assistance activities under the program and "there will be twice as much accomplished as in any previous year."

After addressing the Latin-American ambassadors to Washington and the chiefs of missions to the Organization of American States, Johnson signed 12 separate loan agreements covering 13 countries. Normally such agreements are announced by the State Department.

They will help fight malaria in Brazil, train farmers in Bolivia, for the first time establish three rural electric cooperatives serving 10,000 homes and farms in the Colombian countryside.

They also will bring credits and assistance to 21,000 small farms in the land reform and colonization program of Peru, help Mexico establish a national agricultural center and provide Food for Peace commodities to Ecuador.

Although the $40 million was a comparatively modest amount by the standards of current aid projects, it was aimed for maximum effect.

Johnson spoke to the Latin diplomats in a persuasive tone, departing frequently from his prepared text.

The President went to the crux of Latin-American problems when he linked economic progress and representative democracy.

Without representative democracy, "and the freedom it nourishes," he said, material progress is an aimless enterprise destroying the dignity of spirit it is meant to liberate. We will continue to join you to encourage democracy until we build a hemisphere of free nations from Tierra del Fuego to the Arctic Circle."

After his speech Johnson invited the diplomats to join him in another room at the White House for a small talk. "After all we are all brothers," he said.

Hill had a hard time cutting in, but finally told the caller: "You must have the wrong number, because I wasn't in the Army in World War II."

"But you are William Hill, aren't you?" the caller insisted.

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Pyramid Climber Performs for Mr. K

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's champion pyramid climber streaked to the top of the Great Cheops Pyramid a minute faster for Soviet Premier Khrushchev than he did for Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

Chou gave him a fountain pen five months ago. Khrushchev gave him four kisses.

"A kiss is worth a thousand pounds," said the climber, Hefnawi Abdel Fayed. "Furthermore, I was happier to meet Khrushchev and I like him more."

Hefnawi's climb is a standard sideshow for visitors to the 481-foot monument.

As Khrushchev watched the 37-year-old Egyptian streak to the top in four minutes, he said to Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer: "Give me a week to train and I will race you."

"I would need two years to get ready for that," joked Amer. "That's why I picked you," said the 70-year-old Khrushchev. "I always choose my competitors carefully."

who put Soviet missiles in Cuba still runs the Soviet Union.

In discussing Cuba, he brought up the U.S.-Soviet confrontation of 1962 for a time appeared to be pushing the world toward nuclear war.

Rusk declared the United States is determined to continue aerial reconnaissance of Cuba and any attempt by Prime Minister Fidel Castro to intervene could create a severe problem.

He said he could see where it would be a serious matter for the other side as well, and pointed out a crisis could develop into one as serious as the confrontation of October, 1962, over Soviet missiles in Cuba.

The secretary was seeking NATO support for the U.S. trade embargo of the Communist island, a customer of such major American allies as Britain and France.

Opening the three-day spring meeting of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers, Rusk declared that all Communist aggression must be eradicated to insure the security of the non-Communist world. This appeared to be a reference to South Viet Nam as well as Cuba.

Rusk described a crisis over Cuba as one for the whole Western world not just for the United States.

Washington he explained, could not tolerate Castro's efforts to subvert the rest of the hemisphere. Castro's regime must be isolated politically, economically, socially and spiritually from the rest of the hemisphere, he added.

Rusk said NATO's successful defense of the Atlantic community "has somewhat deflected the Communist threat against Europe itself."

"The Communists are concentrating their extremist efforts on other areas of the world," he said. "It is essential that Communists everywhere learn that they cannot expect to gain from a policy of militancy."

Rusk said the NATO Allies should not let success blind them to current dangers.

"Certain of these dangers seem to have diminished, but they can reappear suddenly and without warning," he said.

Leading statesmen sought to bring NATO authority to bear on the Greeks and Turks to submerge their animosities for the common good. The would-be conciliators hoped to arrange a meeting between the Greek and Turkish foreign ministers, Stavros Kostopoulos and Feridun Cemal Erkin.

Kostopoulos on his arrival from Athens told Rusk, Canada's Paul Martin and others that Greece opposes any discussion of Cyprus inside NATO. He was echoing the view of Cyprus President Makarios, the Greek Cypriot leader.

Erkin, however, vowed that he would bring the Cyprus issue before the council. He said Turkey had stood about all it could from certain powers which claimed to be allied but which he said had shown neither good will nor support for the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Besides Cyprus there were several other breaches in Allied unity.

Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium intended to charge the French with a policy of weakening the alliance. Along with other diplomats here, Spaak has begun referring to 15-nation NATO as "the 14 and France" because of President Charles de Gaulle's go-it-alone tactics.

san leadership of the senate "will do its very best to bring the bill to a vote, one way or another."

Asked whether this meant a move to cut off debate, Mansfield said the Senate will make this decision, and added:

"We are prepared to keep Congress in session all year if necessary to pass the President's program."

The people are entitled to an expression from Congress, Mansfield said. "We cannot dodge it, we have to face up to it."

He said the congressional leaders told Johnson that his "forthright explanations" of the rights bill recently have had marked effect on the public's understanding of the measure and on the Senate's approach to it.

The President has made it clear, he said, that civil rights is "not a partisan problem, and not a regional problem."

Southern senators will hold a strategy session later today to draft their version of a jury trial amendment.

This one gives the defendant in a criminal contempt action arising from the House-passed bill a choice: a jury trial and the possibility of a stiffer penalty over a non-jury trial with lesser punishment guaranteed.

The Dixie bloc bypassed a bipartisan, limited jury trial proposal that had been pending business — calling up Monday night the proposal of Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla.

This gives the Southern another crack at reversing a one-vote defeat last week on a jury trial amendment proposed by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.

Hypnotism Blamed for Diver's Death

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Two sky divers may have been hypnotized by the effects of a 7,500-foot drop in which one was killed and the other injured, a fellow jumper says.

Jack Smith, 27, of Manhattan Beach, Calif., a veteran of 298 jumps, was killed Sunday when he failed to open his parachute in time.

Smith's jumping partner, Alan Anderson, 27, of La Crescenta, Calif., crashed to the ground seconds later. His chute opened at 350 feet. He suffered a fractured leg and facial cuts, but he was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

A fellow sky diver, James Sommer, 26, of nearby Palmdale, said he was at the drop zone when the accident occurred. "As they were free falling, they were sometimes as close as five feet from each other. Perhaps they became so deeply engrossed in the effect of the fall they hypnotized each other. It can happen," Sommer said.

Irish Troops Seal Off Turkish Area

By THOMAS A. REEDY
NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Irish troops of the U.N. peace force sealed off the old walled Turkish area of Famagusta today to prevent Greek Cypriot revenge for the slaying of two Greek army officers and a Greek Cypriot youth leader.

A U.N. spokesman said 10 Turkish Cypriots were reported missing in the Famagusta area. Most of them were known to have been taken hostage by Greeks after Monday's shooting in which a third Greek officer was wounded and a Turkish Cypriot killed in the crossfire.

Outside the Turkish sector, Famagusta, biggest and busiest port on Cyprus, was virtually shut down as a result of the shooting which the Greek government denounced as "cold-blooded Turkish murder."

Most Greek Cypriot dock workers, fearing they might come under fire from the nearby Turkish quarter, stayed away from the waterfront. Turkish Cypriot dock workers all stayed off the job.

Fearful of an influx of armed men, the U.N. set up roadblocks on all approaches to both Greek and Turkish sectors of Famagusta.

The wounded survivor of Monday's shooting said he and his three companions drove into the Turkish quarter by mistake in civilian clothes but in a Greek army car.

"We were on the way out when armed Turks stopped us and ordered us out of the car," said Capt. Panayiotis Tarsoulis, 38. "Three Turks in uniform and a civilian all armed with submachine guns opened fire at us without giving us a chance."

Tarsoulis said he was not armed.

However, U.N. headquarters said it believed all four men were armed and that evidence gathered by Irish troops indicated all had fired weapons, although it was not clear who had started the shooting.

Ridgeway Can't Run, Bennett Says

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett indicated today that his legal research shows E. T. (Gene) Ridgeway of Newport is ineligible as a convicted felon to run for governor.

Bennett said he has not received an official request for an opinion on Ridgeway's eligibility but that several verbal inquiries had been made.

"In anticipation of a request, I have been doing some research in an effort to determine whether he is disqualified," Bennett said.

The attorney general would now, however, say specifically what his research has led him to believe.

Ridgeway was convicted in 1955 of embezzlement of public funds while he was a delinquent tax collector in Jackson County. He was paroled in 1957 and his citizenship rights were restored by Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon while Gov. Orval E. Faubus was out of the state.

Ridgeway is one of four candidates who have filed to oppose Faubus in this summer's Democratic primary.

Bennett said the springboard for his research was Section 9 of the Arkansas Constitution which states:

"No person hereafter convicted of embezzlement of public money, bribery, forgery, or other infamous crime shall be eligible to the general assembly or capable of holding any office of trust or profit in this state."

The brief section says nothing about restoration of citizenship rights.

When Ridgeway filed for governor, he said he felt that restoration of his rights made him eligible to run.

Bennett said that when he does receive a request for a ruling on the question, he will give Ridgeway or his friends an opportunity to give him the benefit of their legal research.

"However, I'm going to expedite the ruling whether favorable or unfavorable to Mr. Ridgeway, so that should he or someone else desire to have an early test case, the time element will not place any difficulty before any of the parties involved," Bennett said.

Files Suit to Sell by Mail

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit in federal court at Little Rock Monday seeking an injunction to prohibit sale through the mails of American Commerce Life Insurance stock.

The SEC said the Little Rock firm and three investment brokers were using the mails for sale of the stock without the stock being registered with the SEC.

Other defendants are Affiliated Investments, Inc., United Investment Co. of Paducah, Ky., and Kentucky United Investment Co.

Mrs. Phillips was shot to death with a shotgun while she was seated with friends at a table in her home.

Circuit Judge William Kirby ordered Phillips committed to the state hospital for a 30-day mental examination. His bond was set at $2,500.

"DEAR ABBY"

ONE MOTHER'S HEART-ACHE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: Please print this. Maybe it will spare some other mother the heartbreak I suffer. I am the mother of a retarded son. When he was very young, my family and my doctor tried to get me to put the boy in an institution, but I loved him so dearly I could not bear the thought of putting him away. I thought I could give him the care he needed, so I kept him at home. I didn't know how wrong it was. As the years passed, he developed normally physically, and he began to take notice of the girls. One day he grabbed a little 11-year-old neighbor girl and tried to rape her. The outcome was so terrible for our family. My boy is now in an institution, branded as a "rapist." If I had only listened to my family, this would not have happened. Please advise mothers of retarded children to learn all they can about their problem.

HEARTSICK

Dear Heartsick: Thank you for your letter. If it helps just one mother, it will be worth the space it is given in this newspaper. For information regarding the problem of retarded children, write to: National Association for Retarded Children: Dept. TW, 386 Park Avenue South, N.Y., N.Y.

Dear Abby: How many times should you invite a couple to dinner when they have never had you back? I invited a certain couple to my home for small dinner parties on three separate occasions in this past year, and they never invited us back. I am planning another party and my husband suggested I invite this couple. I told him I would not invite them again until they returned the invitation. My husband says I shouldn't be so "touchy." Abby, these people have entertained many times that I know about, and my intuition tells me they could have invited us if they had wanted to. What do you say?

Dear "Touchy": I'll go along with your woman's intuition. Don't invite them again until

Panama Vote Goes Like Expected

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP)—Official returns from more than half the vote in Sunday's presidential election gave a commanding lead today to government candidate Marco A. Robles, advocate of a tough policy toward American rights in the Panama Canal Zone.

Electoral tribunal figures from 704 of 1,144 precincts gave Robles 86,447 votes to 73,131 for Dr. Arnulfo Arias, a slight favorite before the election.

About half the estimated 130,000 votes cast in Panama Province, where Arias had his greatest strength, were yet to be counted. It was believed that former president would have to take more than 70 per cent of the uncounted votes in the capital province to win.

Sullenness replaced the carnival atmosphere that had prevailed in the Arias camp. Some hinted at government manipulation, claiming that the Electoral Tribunal gave Robles an early edge to provoke Arias followers into violence. Then the National Guard could jail Arias and other leaders of his party.

A Robles victory could portend difficulty for the United States in negotiations on the Panama Canal treaty. Although all seven presidential candidates demand revision of the treaty and it was not an issue in the campaign, Arias was considered more sympathetic to the United States than Robles.

President Robert Chiari, prevented by law from succeeding himself, had given the government coalition's backing to Robles, a 58-year-old banker-politician.

Arias, 63, drew his chief support from the lower-middle and lower classes and a large following of women.

Bakery Workers! Still on Strike

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—About 42 union employees of the Colonial Baking Co. here remain on strike today.

Pickets went up Saturday after an unsuccessful eight-hour bargaining session Friday between members of Local 325 of the American Bakers and Confectioners Union (AFL-CIO). No further bargaining sessions have been announced. The old contract expired May 1. The union is seeking a 20-cent-an-hour raise over two years and fringe benefits.

Goldwater Piling Up a Backlog

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater appears to be piling up backlog support among publicly uncommitted delegates which could strengthen his bid for a first-ballot Republican presidential nomination.

If the Arizona senator wins the June 2 California primary and adds that state's 86 convention votes to his total, his strategists now believe he will come close to having 600 of the 655 needed for the nomination.

If the state-by-state roll call of the 1,308 delegates at the San Francisco convention indicates Goldwater is headed toward a figure only a few short of the magic total, his supporters believe there will be some quick shifts made in his direction.

They point to Wisconsin, far down the roll-call line, as a likely source of Goldwater support in such circumstances. The state's 30 votes are pledged to Rep. John W. Byrnes in a favorite son holding operation.

This served its principal purpose when it kept major contenders out of the state primary, in which Democrats could cross over. Goldwater delegates probably won't feel they have any further obligation to Byrnes if the Arizona senator needs them.

Kentucky also seems likely to offer Goldwater some additional votes if he moves up within striking distance of the nomination as the roll call proceeds.

Kentucky is expected to cast its 24 votes on the first call for Sen. Thurston B. Morton as a favorite son. But Morton said he will release immediately any delegate who might ask to change his vote. He said Goldwater had the support of about 15 Kentucky delegates.

The calculations of the Goldwater strategists are all built on the assumption that their man will bowl over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California primary.

They already have written off Oregon's Friday primary as a loss, with the expectation that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will win that state's 18 votes.

The Goldwater strategists expect Lodge's backers then to appeal to the supporters of Lodge and other potential candidates to vote for Rockefeller in Calif. in an effort to stop Goldwater.

Coalition moves of this nature haven't been very successful in other states and Goldwater's people are not worried on this score.

They are worried about the possibility that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower might be coaxed into making some statement that would damage Goldwater's chances in Calif. The weight of opinion is that Eisenhower won't take sides publicly at this point. But the Goldwater strategists can't be sure.

Arkansan One of Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sgt. Curtis H. Koehler, son of Elwood J. Koehler of Little Rock, was one of the passengers listed as missing Monday following port from the lower-middle and lower classes and a large following of women.

Court Will Not Reverse Cude Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today refused to reconsider its decision ordering that the three children of farmer Archie Cude be taken from him because he would not have them vaccinated against smallpox so they could attend school.

Cude said the ruling completed legal action in the case. "It don't change anything with us," Cude said. He said he would not have the children vaccinated because he has a religious conviction against medical treatment.

And he said he would not take the children back if they were vaccinated. Cude said he would care for the children "if they dumped them out here like a passel of dogs."

The children have been allowed to stay with the Cudes while the case was settled in the courts. They were taken once by the Welfare Department, Gov. Orval E. Faubus stepped in and took the children into the governor's mansion for four days until they were legally returned to their parents temporarily.

The children were still on the Cude farm north of Mena today. Sheriff Bruce Scoggin said he was awaiting word from Chancellor Wesley Howard the original judge in the case, on whether he should take custody of the children. Howard was to be in Mena Tuesday for court.

Cude said he would not appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court "because this is a local and state issue and we don't like a lot of decision they've made in Washington anyhow."

It was expected that Howard's decision in Polk Chancery Court to take custody of the children would take effect soon.

After Cude had been fined three times for not sending the children to school, Howard ordered the Welfare Department to take the children, vaccinate to tame the children vacu-custody to Cude.

Then Cude said he would not take them back under those circumstances. He said if they were "dumped" at his farm he would care for them but would not send them to school.

Cude does not belong to an organized church. He said he arrived at his convictions from reading the Bible.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stars who think they must keep grinding out products to maintain their status might take a lesson from Eva Marie Saint.
Ten years ago she won an Oscar as supporting actress in her first movie, "On the Waterfront." She's now making her eighth film, "36 Hours," and she still gets top money and star billing, with James Garner and Rod Taylor.
This is her first movie since "All Fall Down," two years ago, and the relaxed honey-blonde said she welcomed the return to work.
"I don't mind the lapse between pictures," she said, "but two years is a little too long."
Why has she done only eight films in a decade?
"Because I've always considered that family matters come first," she said. "Many of the pictures I was offered were to be filmed in Europe, and that meant separating the family, which I don't believe in."
"We all went over to Cyprus and Israel for 'Exodus,' and was too much. My husband — Director Jeffrey Hayden — was able to get away, and we took our two small children. My parents went along to take care of them, since my housekeeper wouldn't fly over the ocean."

One brisk morning in the following week, Gregory Neville, the British detective story writer, hailed Malcolm in the square of the village.
They sat at a table on the deserted terrace of the Bar Seville. "I came on this at a shop in Torremolinos," Neville said, taking a soft-cover book from his pocket and handing it to Malcolm. "Memoirs of a German colonel who served with Rommel in the Africa Corps."
"That's very thoughtful of you," Malcolm said.
Malcolm watched sadly as Neville removed the tools of his trade from his pocket, a stubby pipe and a well-worn leather tobacco pouch.
"You'll need a good supply of guns for one thing," Neville went on expensively, after he had gotten his pipe fuming with intensity. "Ridiculous to insult your readers' good sense by raising a fuss over a dozen-odd rifles. No, pick a large but manageable number, say 500 or 1,000. Choose good sturdy weapons which don't require ordnance experts to put and keep them in order."
"Then I stumbled on something in the colonel's memoirs. The Germans experimented in World War II with a shoulder weapon similar to the Garand. It was classified Gewehr Model 41, and there were two modifications, the 41W and 41M. Where do you imagine a supply of those Model 41's might be found today?"
"Algeria?"
"Thousands of Model 41's must have been lost during Rommel's various retreats. Who'd be most likely to find these abandoned guns? Berbers, Arab tribes and so forth. In the perfectly dry desert air, these rifles could pass white-glove inspections for years."
"Absolutely," Malcolm said with an emphatic nod.
"The years pass. We come to the trouble in Algeria, the revolt of the army, the long years of guerrilla fighting. That is when our Gewehr Model 41's came on the scene again. From caches and caves all over Algeria, they were hustled into action, whether for profit or patriotism does not matter two

Borg-Warner Strike Hearing
FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has set a meeting for 10 a.m. Wednesday with management and labor to discuss the strike at the Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp.
Some 1,200 employees of the huge refrigerator plant near Fort Smith struck shortly after midnight last Wednesday after the union contract expired.
The union said the strike was over wages and working conditions.
A. W. Mille of Little Rock, commissioner for the Mediation and Conciliation Service, announced the meeting. The site was not set.
Robert Johnson, president of Local 370 of the Allied Industrial Workers Union, said negotiations went on for eight weeks before the strike. Union members voted 742-70 for the strike.
The company moved its plant to Fort Smith from Muskegon, Mich., in 1961. The average wage at Muskegon was $2.50 an hour and Johnson said the average wage at the plant here was $1.67.

the way he might have reacted to an assertion that the earth was flat. "You must find a friend to read one to you."
"I can read the bloody things myself," Clarke said sullenly.
"Really?" Neville's eyes were fixed on an invisible point above Clarke's left ear. "You must forgive me, old man. One tends to forget how Labour broadened the educational base, does not one."

Unusual Play Gives Senators a Victory

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stu Miller has been hypnotizing batters for years, but he may have put his first base runner to sleep.

It happened Monday night at Washington, where the Orioles lost to the Senators 6-4, despite Miller's performance and an extra second baseman.

Miller, who seems to full batters into submission with his slow stuff, got the call from the Orioles bullpen in the seventh inning with the score tied 3-3 and two Senators on base—Don Lock at third and Ken Hunt at first. Miller proceeded to loft four of his pitches wide of the plate. Intentionally walking Don Blasingame to load the bases. That forced Hunt over to second base where he apparently figured he could catch a few winks while Miller faced pitcher Bennie Daniels.

At any rate, when Daniels blooped one of Miller's bloopers into shallow center and it fell in front of outfielder Jackie Brandt, Hunt never left second base.

Brandt quickly turned himself into a second baseman, stepped on the bag and recorded a rare putout for an outfielder by forcing Blasingame, who had become a man without a base.

Lock, however, hadn't been caught napping and raced home with the tie-breaking run. Don Zimmer, who previously had collected three singles, followed with a two-run triple and Hunt was left somewhat less red-faced.

Elsewhere in the American League, Albie Pearson slammed a two-run homer and a pair of doubles while leading the Los Angeles Angels to a 6-5 victory over Kansas City, and Fred Whitfield hit a grand-slam homer and Larry Brown a three-run shot in Cleveland's 11-7 wallop of Boston.

The Chicago White Sox-Minnesota game was rained out. The New York Yankees and Detroit were not scheduled.

In National League action, Houston downed San Francisco 4-1. St. Louis edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 7-6. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Pearson homered in the second, doubled in the fifth and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jim Fregosi then came across with what turned out to be the decisive run when he doubled and scored on Billy Moran's single in the seventh. The A's, who lost their sixth in seven games, struck for three runs in the eighth before reliever Barry Latman cut off the rally.

Whitfield hit his grand slam in the fifth and Brown hit his three-run homer in a four-run eighth-inning uprising that sent the Indians and rookie Tommy John into the ninth with an 11-1 lead. The Red Sox, however, battled back, jamming in six runs after two were out in the ninth before Ted Abernathy put out the fire.

Words Swirl on Disputed Decision

ACCRA, Ghana (AP)—The world's two biggest boxing bodies said Sugar Ramos still is featherweight champion today, but angry words still swirled around the scene of his disputed battle with Floyd Robertson of Ghana.

Abe J. Greene, commissioner of the World Boxing Association, said chaos would rule if boxing authorities were allowed to overrule judges' decisions.

The British Boxing Board of Control said it would not recognize the move by the Ghana Boxing Authority to reverse the split decision for Ramos and give the title to Robertson.

The local press attacked the two judges who voted for Ramos, Ed Lassman of Miami, president of the WBA, and Ramon Velazquez, head of the Mexico Boxing Commission.

It also attacked Ohone Djan, Ghana's sports director, for "bungling up Ghana's greatest sporting opportunity."

The Daily Graphic, a government-owned newspaper, called on the British group and the WBA to give the title to Robertson. "Bad decisions are not new in boxing," the newspaper said, "but surely this one by the two imperialist exploiters is something that hurts Africa."

Other newspapers called the two judges "corrupt capitalists." Lassman and Velazquez voted 70-69 for the Puerto Rican-born champion, in the 15-round bout Saturday night. British judge Jack Hart voted for Robertson.

Lassman, who flew to London Monday, said he would give the same verdict again. So did Velazquez.

The two judges had to be helped from the arena by Ghana army men. Fans fought to get at them and called white newsmen at ringside "Yankee imperialists."

Hendrix Hurdler Sets New Mark

ARCADEPARK, Ark. (AP)—Ronnie McCallish of Hendrix ran 220-yard low hurdles in 23.9 seconds night in the preliminaries of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference track meet here.

The time bettered a record of 24.1 set last year by Wilbur Owen of Arkansas State Teachers College. Owen also bettered his record in another preliminary heat with a time of 24.0.

ASTC qualified 19 men for all events except the shot put, discus and broad jump. The finals of the meet are scheduled to night at 6 p.m.

Arkansas A&M qualified 12 men for the meet, Arkansas Tech 11, Harding 9, Henderson 6, Hendrix 5, Ouachita 5, Southern State 4 and Ozarks 4.

35, of Morrilton, was transferred to Conway County jail pending investigation. Long and Henley were arrested Friday and booked for drunkenness.

An autopsy was scheduled.

Houston Wins With Hurling of Farrell

By BOB GREIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Anytime a pitcher comes up with a 4-1 record for the Houston Colts, he has to have something going for him. Dick Farrell, however, has an even more impressive statistic: He limited Willie Mays to 1-for-4.

The Colt right-hander, a hulking, 220-pounder, won his fourth game Monday night, pitching his eighth-place mates to a 4-1 triumph over National League-leading San Francisco.

He lowered his earned-run average to a respectable 2.14, which is even more respectable when it is considered that all his decisions have been against the league's tougher clubs: two victories over St. Louis, including a four-hitter, and a win and loss to Los Angeles.

And against the Giants, he allowed streaking Willie a single his first time up, then retired him three times in a row, striking him out once with two men on base. This, of course, is quite an accomplishment.

Farrell, who was 14-13 with the ninth-place club last season, scattered 10 hits about as effectively as possible and got the benefit of some strange Giant base-running.

Jesus Alou, leading off the first, singled, but was thrown out trying to make third on brother Matty's single. Mays then singled, but Farrell pitched out of it.

And in the fifth, Jesus doubled with one out and held up at third on Matty's single. Mays struck out and Matty broke for second. The throw went to second and Matty stopped. But Nellie Fox made a quick throw to third and Jesus was picked off for a weird double play.

St. Louis edged Philadelphia 3-2 and Cincinnati rallied for a 7-6 victory over Pittsburgh in the only other games on the short National League schedule.

In the American League, Cleveland whipped Boston 11-7. Washington edged Baltimore 6-5 and Los Angeles held off Kansas City 6-5. Chicago and the Twins were rained out of their game at Minnesota, the only other scheduled action.

Pete Rose's three-run homer in the eighth inning provided the Reds with their victory at Pittsburgh, even though the Pirates rallied for two in their half of the inning.

Julian Javier's seventh-inning homer drove in all the Cardinal runs and gave lefty Ray Sadecki just enough working room to make his six-hitter stand up.

Chinese Eliminated as Bandits

By WILL GRIMSLEY

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—World political tensions have claimed another victim — the famed "Chinese Bandits" of the Army football team.

From now on, just call them "Bandits."

That's the official word from the U.S. Military Academy where a spokesman, who preferred anonymity, explained:

"The term 'Chinese Bandits' was given to our football defensive unit. It was intended to mean a tough bunch of guys. Also it gave the second team some dignity."

"But it had an undesirable international connotation, and we've had some criticism ever since it started. You see there are different kinds of mean guys — good, mean guys and mean, mean guys."

"There was the idea that the mean, mean guys were Chinese Communists. Rather than create an international incident, we decided it best to skip it."

Officially, Army denied that there were any political pressures which dictated the dropping of the Oriental tag, which will mean also the end of the Chinese laundry chants and coolie hats at West Point games.

No phone call from the Pentagon. No complaint from Chiang Kai-shek or Chou En-lai.

"We just decided that the word 'Bandits' was simpler," said Coach Paul Dietzel, who said he got the inspiration for the "Chinese Bandits" out of a comic strip 15 years ago.

"We only intended that the team be known as 'Bandits.' It has nothing to do with the Chinese." He didn't explain the chants and the coolie hats.

This is not the first time nicknames of athletic teams have been changed for political, or other, reasons.

Right after World War II, when the Russians and Americans were in a titanic struggle for world supremacy, the Cincinnati Reds baseball team decided it best to change the name to "Redlegs." Later, Premier Khrushchev got a bit more friendly, and the name was

Surprise Is Hinted for Preakness

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mesh Tenney isn't making any rash predictions. But there was a sneaking suspicion around ancient Pimlico today that the man with the white sombrero from California is readying a surprise for the 88th running of the $150,000-added Preakness Saturday.

Tenney won last year's Preakness with Candy Spots after the Rex Ellsworth colt had finished third in the Kentucky Derby.

He bids for the second jewel of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds Saturday with Ellsworth's The Scoundrel, who was third back of Northern Dancer and Hill Rise in this year's Derby.

The veteran trainer, whose conditioning methods often are considered unorthodox by the standards of the majority of trainers, doesn't care to compare The Scoundrel, a big robust son of the little-known Toulouse Lautrec, with Candy Spots. He just doesn't believe in making comparisons between horses.

But there is no concealing the fact that Tenney is more confident than he was prior to the Derby, in which The Scoundrel was beaten by 3 1/2 lengths for all of the money after holding the lead briefly at the one-mile mark.

"I look for my horse to improve a little every race," said Tenney as he talked of The Scoundrel's fine workout Sunday when he stepped one-mile in 1:38 1-5. The time was only two-fifths of a second off the track record. "I don't think it was too fast. I would consider it just about right."

Tenney was especially pleased that The Scoundrel changed leads without breaking stride—something he has had difficulty doing in past races.

"He still races a little green but he is improving," said Tenney.

All of this could mean bad news for Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, who off their thrilling Derby duel figure to dominate the field of five or perhaps six.

Roman Brother and Quadrangle are the other two expert starters.

Afflicted? Yes, afflicted. Finley recently charged that the friendly right-field stands at Yankee Stadium, only 296 feet from home plate, were largely responsible for the Yankees' domination of the league in the last 40 years.

Maybe so. But the figures belie that charge this year.

In eight games at Yankee Stadium, the American League champions have hit only two home runs. In contrast, the Yankees have hit 14 home runs in 12 road games.

Eight of those home runs were smashed in the Yankees' four-game sweep over the Indians in Cleveland last weekend. Before changed back to "Reds." The "Redlegs" tag never took any how.

Lucky Yanks Are That Afflicted

NEW YORK (AP)—You know that short right field in Yankee Stadium that Kansas City owner Charles Finley has been complaining about?

Well, it develops he and the rest of the American League are lucky the Yankees are so afflicted.

Afflicted? Yes, afflicted. Finley recently charged that the friendly right-field stands at Yankee Stadium, only 296 feet from home plate, were largely responsible for the Yankees' domination of the league in the last 40 years.

Rules in Little League Baseball

Here's another Little League baseball situation and the decision made:

Situation—Batter is receiving an intentional base on balls. He decides to step outside the batters box while the pitcher is delivering the four pitches. Should the umpire insist he stand in the batters box until the base on balls has been issued?

Decision—Yes. The batter must be in the batters box.

Travelers Hold Lead in the PCL

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers continued their lead in the Pacific Coast League's eastern division Monday night when they split a doubleheader with Hawaii at Little Rock.

Hawaii took the opener 9-1 and Arkansas got the nightcap 8-7. The games ended a four-game series of which Arkansas won three games.

San Diego opens tonight in Little Rock.

In the first game Monday night lefthander Danilo Rivas held Arkansas to four hits, one of them a home run by Norm Gigon.

Rivas drove in three of his team's runs, two of them with a double. Paul Brown was the loser giving up eight hits and four runs in 3-1-3 innings.

In the second game, the lead changed hands until the seventh inning when Costen Shockley slammed a two-run homer giving Arkansas permanent possession of the lead at 8-6.

Adolfo Phillips gave Arkansas a 6-6 tie in the bottom of the sixth when he drove in Bill Sorrell with a single and then stole home with the tying run.

Norm Gigon banged out a two-run homer in the fifth to keep Arkansas in contention.

Carlos Bernier opened and closed scoring for Hawaii with a home run in the first inning and another in the ninth.
